

I am strongly against any copy protection on television broadcasts.

The corporations that favor this will certainly prevent my existing fair use (time-shifting, location shifting) with such a feature, and that will make it unlikely I will purchase HDTV equipment. I dislike government policy being driven by corporations with an agenda that alienates or criminalizes their own customers.